ROSS CRANE

Ross Crane and his company of canvases and crayons, modeling board and clay, and the piano—to say nothing of the piano stool, gave a novel and delightful performance at the High School Auditorium last night, and for some two hours kept the large audience of about 500 people in constant and close attention.

Rarely have all the elements of a great entertainer been united in one personality—painter, sculptor, humorist, philosopher and master of the assembly. No wonder he is called "Ross Crane, the incomparable."

The first part of Mr. Crane's entertainment consisted of sketching and painting—mostly of types of characters that are familiar to us all. Following this Mr. Crane showed how statues are made and in the space of 20 minutes the artist produced, under the swift, magic of his hands, six or eight great heads in clay—portraits of men whom the nation loves, as well as several laughable creations.

The piano burlesques by Mr. Crane were uproariously funny because they were drawn from life.

The performance was one of the best of its kind ever seen in this city, and the lyceum committee would make no mistake in securing him again at some future date.

$12,500 DAMAGES

From Louisville Tobacco Warehouse Company Awarded To Judge J. M. Lee of Lewis County In Circuit Court Yesterday.

Yesterday in the Mason Circuit Court in the case of the Louisville Tobacco Warehouse Company against J. M. Lee, the jury returned a verdict for the defendant, he being given damages in the sum of $12,500, with interest at 6 per cent from February 20, 1914.

This case has been occupying the attention of the court for the past several days and every detail of the case was gone over carefully, as there was a large amount of money involved.

Mr. Lee is the County Judge of Lewis county and had for a number of years bought tobacco for the Louisville company, who had always advanced him money with which to buy. Last year some tobacco was bought by him and when sold at Louisville made a loss, whereupon the Louisville house sued the judge for this loss and interest.

The judge claimed that the tobacco was not sold when he instructed them to sell it and he made a counter claim for damages.

Hon. James N. Collins was the attorney for the defendant.

Maysville parties who are interested in the oil and gas well at Brooksville have been given reason to hope lately that they are yet to make a lucky strike.

An expert representing a big pipe line company went out a few days ago to examine the well but found it full of water. He saw evidence enough, however, to cause him to observe that he believed the owners have a valuable piece of property if it is pumped out and drilled deeper.

It is said that the well now is gushing gas enough to supply Brooksville.

Decision By Court of Appeals Gives Saloons the Right To Do Business Until Contest Is Settled

Maysville Wet Men Are Rejoicing—Fight May Finally Reach the Supreme Court of the United States

The anxiety of all those who were awaiting to hear the decision of the Court of Appeals in the Shelbyville case was alleviated yesterday afternoon about 4 o'clock, when Hon. James N. Collins, local attorney for the wets, received a long distance call from Judge Hazelrigg of Mt. Sterling, who was in Frankfort, announcing that the Court of Appeals had decided that the injunction sworn out at Shelbyville by the dries against the saloonists, compelling them to close their saloons until the contest pending was fully decided by the Court of Appeals should be dissolved.

The case pending in the Court of Appeals which was of so much interest to the local liquor dealers was a case in which the owner of certain property, which had been leased by him to a liquor dealer sought to enjoin the liquor dealer from selling liquor in the property and thereby causing the landlord to incur the penalty for leasing property for the purpose of selling liquor under the act of 1914. The liquor dealer took the position that he was entitled to sell liquor on the premises as long as the contest over the local option election was still pending, under a super sedes bond.

The lower court granted the landlord an injunction against the dealer and the dealer asked the Court of Appeals to dissolve the injunction.

The Court of Appeals yesterday dissolved the injunction, holding that the supersedes bond protected the dealer while contest was pending.

The effect of the decision is that the liquor dealers will be permitted to do business as long as the respective contests are pending.

Frankfort, Ky., January 14.—Sus taining a motion to dissolve the injunction granted Matthews Hall to prevent the Smith-Kenney Company from selling liquor in Shelbyville under a license issued October 14, after the local option election in Shelby county, Chief Justice Miller held today, in an opinion in which the entire court concurred, that the amendment of 1914, of the local option law, did not change the effect of appeal from the finding of the Canvassing Board. He says the appeal suspends the effect of the election until the final determination of the appeal. The opinion follows an uninterrupted line of previous opinions in such cases.

The result of dissolving the injunction is that the sale of liquor may continue in Shelbyville until the court of last resort decides the election contest case. Judge Turner was absent, but the other judges concurred in the opinion which will be published in the reports.

Shelbyville Saloons Open.
Shelbyville, Ky., January 14.—The saloons here opened this afternoon immediately following announcement of the decision in their favor by the Appellate Court. They had been closed for ten days awaiting the decision.

Paris Saloons Again Open.
Paris, Ky., January 14.—Shortly after 3 o'clock Thursday afternoon a rumor was circulated in Paris that the Court of Appeals had rendered a decision in the Shelbyville case, holding that the supersedes held the judgment in abeyance until the appeal was disposed of.

May Go to U. S. Supreme Court.
The wets, with a few to push this contingency, laid the foundation for an appeal to the Supreme Court of the United States in setting out their grounds of contest, and it will, therefore, be several years before a final decision will be reached, for they will of course, go to the last court if they can keep open while going there.

THOUSANDS BURIED IN THE RUINS OF WORST EARTH-QUAKE IN ITALY'S HISTORY

London, January 14.—A news dispatch received here from Rome says that the member of the Chamber of Deputies for Lipari has telegraphed to the capital that the disaster of yesterday surpasses the Messina catastrophe. The ruin is more widespread and the injury to life and limb will be greater.

Rome, January 14.—With every hour, as additional and more accurate details are received, the horror of yesterday's earthquake increases, threatening to place it in the lists of similar catastrophes in Europe second only to the disaster of 1908, when 76,483 persons were killed in Sicily and Calabria and when Messina was destroyed.

The list of dead, dying and injured has increased to more than 50,000, according to an official announcement made today, and there is prospect that the figures will be increased before night.

The greatest loss of life was in Avezzano, in the province of Abruzzi, about 63 miles from Rome. In Avezzano, which was a prosperous little city of 12,000 inhabitants in what is known as the "Italian Switzerland," and the surrounding towns, it is officially estimated that 15,000 persons were killed. From the most recent reports, it appears that few escaped from Avezzano, which is pictured as another Messina.

Rome, January 14.—Official news of the destruction by earthquake of 11 more towns and villages, having a total population of more than 35,000 persons, was received yesterday afternoon. These are: Capistrano, Cappelletto, Celano, Paterno, St. Pelino, Gioia, Marsi, Scurocola, Antrosano and Castronovo.

All of the 4,000 inhabitants of Capistrano are said to have perished. These towns are in the region of Lake Fucino and it is believed that all the other villages of that region were wrecked.

dra today that the earthquake in central Italy was worse than that of Messina. The Premier received the following dispatch from the deputy:

"The catastrophe is appalling. We need immediately 25,000 men to clear the ruins, as well as bread, water, medicine and timber.

"The disaster is even superior to that of Messina for its violence and the percentage of dead and wounded."

HUSBAND AND WIFE MAY HAVE BEEN MURDERED.

There is talk of a rigid investigation as to the manner of the deaths of Gus Cahall and wife, who were found dead in bed at their home near Higginsport, O., two or three weeks ago. All kinds of rumors are afloat, and foul play is hinted at by residents of Brown county. Both were shot through the head with a revolver, it being at first that it was a case of murder and suicide, but this theory has been abandoned by many living in the vicinity of the Cahall home.

EUROPEAN MILITARISM.

University professors on the side of the allies are not the only learned men who believe that this war will serve to increase rather than decrease the military spirit. Prof. Neisser, in the Berliner Tageblatt, says: "If we conquer—and conquer we must—we shall continue to cultivate militarism to our utmost ability in order to preserve the fruits of victory and promote the full expansion of our arts and 'success.'"

A feminist paper published in Paris recently asked its readers of the gentler sex what man they would rather have been had not been born women. The almost unanimous reply was, Napoleon. The verdict is an interesting aspect of the controversy as to whether this is to be the war that will end war or give it a greater stimulus than ever. Many believe that it has revived the military spirit. Paul Bourget, the distinguished French author, speaks of a France made more militant by what he regards as her magnificent victories. Before the war, he argues, France was really half afraid that she was the semi-decadent nation so often described by her enemies. Now, she is so convinced of her might the future policy will be to make her even more prepared. If this spirit be common to the belligerents the outlook for universal and permanent peace is not so very hopeful.

WEARY YEARS OF WAITING FOR VOTES FOR WOMEN.

Victories in sparsely settled western states can scarcely be taken as omens of what is going to happen in the great commonwealth of the east. The doctrine of universal suffrage appears to be much more popular in rural than urban communities. With single cities in many of the eastern states with more voters than the entire population of western states that have adopted woman's suffrage, it seems likely that the conquest of the middle west and eastern states will be attended with weary years of waiting and struggling.

Even though a doubt may be expressed as to what has been or may be accomplished by universal suffrage for the amelioration of humanity, it's a pretty safe proposition to wager that the struggle for equal suffrage will be continued.—Enquirer.

WITHER HAS THE BIBLE NOR THE DECLARATION OF INDEPENDENCE.

The trouble with the Republican party is that it has not had a new idea in 30 years. I say this not as a politician, but as a historian. The Republican party is a refuge for those who want to consult their grandfathers about everything. The party does not trust its youngsters.—President Wilson at Indianapolis.

THE DIFFERENCE.

"Where the statesman," he said, "sees in vision a bronze statue of himself by MacMonnies or Rodin, the politician sees a brown stone front, two automobiles and champagne for dinner."—Philadelphia Bulletin.

WAR IN GOTHAM.

There are now 760 Chinese and 2,502 Japanese farmers in the United States, and the majority are tenant farmers who pay cash rentals.

In the opinion of C. H. Brown, chairman of the hosiery manufacturers' Legislative Committee, it will be early spring before business will materially increase as a result of the war, and this will not amount to much if foreign nations can send us a thousand cases of hose a month. Imports of hosiery for October showed 709 cases from Germany, which came through the neutral ports of Rotterdam and Christiana. It has been learned that in one hosiery factory in Germany, only 70 of the 1,000 employees have been drawn for military service.

Says the Northwestern Agriculturist: "It is important for farmers' clubs to discuss the tariff as it affects farm crop prices. We can not expect to get full prices in our markets if part of our home demand is supplied by foreign producers."

The United States Department of Agriculture has issued a report indicating that the yield of crops in Ohio and five adjacent states is 104.1 per cent of the average. Prices are more than 150 per cent of the average.

In the few months in which the national income tax was in force, the tax on undivided incomes produced a total of but $28,253,535—less than one-half of the amount which the administration leaders had expected.

According to the latest circulation statement issued by the Treasury Department of the United States on December 1, 1914, was estimated at $99,733,000, and the circulation per capita $36.40.

We ought to repeal the present destructive tariff—destructive of national income as well as destructive of business.—Baltimore Manufacturers' Record.

FOOLISH PHILOSOPHY.

A woman raves over a matinee idol that she wouldn't live with ten minutes if they were married.

The average man thinks he has something coming to him, and if he is a married man he is sure to get it—and then some.

If a man is unable to boast of what his ancestors accomplished, it's up to him to do something worth while on his own account.

The things that women do because they have no reason for doing them usually turn out better than the things men do because they have several reasons.

Hope For Us All.

The surprise of the season came in the marriage at Tamworth of Miss Cordelia P. Johnson and William A. Hill. Spinsters, widows and divorced all say there is hope for them, and the men—well, one says there is a woman for you somewhere if not too particular.—Sandwich (N. H.) Reporter.

A Regular Billy-Buttin.

Oswald took me to a dancing party last evening, and when he was doing the strong arm in the second fox trot, he said: "Felicia, you remind me of a weather report." And I said, "Why, Oswald, how do you mean?" And he said, "Fair and warmer."

Conditional Proposal.

"You write a beautiful hand. I wish that I had such a hand," said Mr. Flasher to a lady clerk at the hotel. "Am I to consider this as a proposal?" asked the lady. "Well—er—yes—if my wife is willing to let me off," replied the accomplished Flasher.

CRYING FOR HELP

The kidneys often cry for help. Not another organ in the whole body more delicately constructed. Not one more important to health. The kidneys are the filters of the blood.

When they fail the blood becomes foul and poisonous. There can be no health where there is poisoned blood. Backache is one of the frequent indications of kidney trouble.

It is often the kidney's cry for help. Read what Doan's Kidney Pills have done for overworked kidneys. Read what Doan's have done for Maysville people.

Lang Stevens, Maysville, Ky., says: "My kidneys were out of order and I had backache, which extended into my kidneys. The kidney action was irregular. Doan's Kidney Pills had been used in my family, so I gave them a trial. They helped me greatly." Mr. Stevens is only one of many Maysville people who have gratefully endorsed Doan's Kidney Pills. If you back ache—if your kidneys bother you, don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—ask distinctly for Doan's Kidney Pills, the same that Mr. Stevens had—the remedy backed by home testimony. 50c all stores. SOME BILLY SUNDAY GRAMS.

You stop living the way you do and I'll stop preaching the way I do. Some of you are scared because you think I preach too plain. I preach just like you live.

It is as much the duty of a preacher to awaken the community for God as it is for a fireman to respond when the alarm is sounded.

There are too many so-called high-toned people who think a little dough and some social drag give them superiority.

Write down your sins. Say, "God, I'm a four-flusher, a liar, and am not true to my wife, or not true to my husband."

I'm getting tired of having saddled on the Lord things the Lord never had anything to do with.

The church has degenerated into a third-rate amusement show with religion cut out.

Why should the saloon have more power than the church?

I don't blame a man for staying out late at night instead of being home with his wife if he has to play second fiddle to a how-legged bulldog.

I know some of you people don't like some of the things I am saying here. Well, we have 29 doors around here. If you don't like it, beat it. I don't care.

I'm for society, but I'm out against the sins of society.

I'll vote for any good man, no matter what ticket he's on. I'm a politician, not a partisan.

LUKE MCLUKE SAYS

(From the Cincinnati Enquirer.)

When a woman is wearing a flock of diamond rings it is not bad form for her to pick her teeth in a public place.

If an object is too close to the eye, it can not be seen. That's why we know that other people have faults and that we haven't any.

If you believe that a man is smart, don't tell him, tell other people. This will do him more good and will keep his head from swelling.

THE TIME IS COMING.

"The time is surely coming when men will refuse comfort, pleasure, gain that can be obtained only by taking it away from another."—Bob Eldridge, in Jolly Elk.

Yes, Bob, when the hand of the Almighty, Who sees all wrongs and injustices shall be laid upon men of high and low degree for their wrongs done their fellowmen, and those who once prospered are reduced, as well as punished through visitations of disease and troubles, they will then have cause to look backward on their acts of the past and recall to memory these lines:

"The moving finger writes and, having writ,
Moves on; nor all your piety nor wit
Shall lure it back to cancel half a line."
—Kentucky Elk.

THEY ARE THE LIMIT.

Since Ananias had his birth. We have had liars on this earth. Some men will lie about their wealth. And women lie about their health; Men lie about the fish they've caught; And also of the fish they've bought; Some fellows lie about their lives. And some, 'tis said, unto their wives; We've heard men lie about their wages. And women lie about their age. But of all liars, since the first, The weather prophets are the worst.

FRIENDSHIP.

Here's to the hand of friendship, Sincere, twice tried and true, That laughs in the hour of triumph, And laughs at its joy with you.

THE BOOK OF ALL BOOKS.

Many noted preachers have paid their respects to that Book of all Books, the Bible. The following eulogy is the best we have ever read. It was printed on a small card for distribution a few years ago. The author of it is unknown.

This book contains: The mind of God, the state of man, the way of salvation, doom to sinners and the happiness of believers.

Its doctrines are holy, its precepts are binding, its histories are true, its decisions are immutable.

Read it to be wise, believe it to be safe, practice it to be holy.

It contains light to direct you, food to support you and comfort to cheer you.

It is the traveler's map, the pilgrim's staff and the Christian's charter; Christ its grand subject, our good its design, and the glory of God its end.

It should fill the memory, rule the heart and guide the feet.

Read it slowly, frequently and prayerfully.

It is a mine of wealth, a paradise of glory and a river of pleasure.

It is given you in life, will open at judgment and be remembered forever.

It involves the highest responsibility, rewards the greatest labor and condemns all who trifle with its holy contents.

It is worthy of preservation.

SAYS SPRING LAMBS WILL BE HIGH THIS SEASON.

The highest price ever realized in America for lambs will be reached next spring and summer for choice selections from the Kentucky and Tennessee crops, is the prediction of J. E. Poole of Chicago, associate editor of the Breeders' Gazette and the Chicago Live Stock World, who was the principal speaker at the Kentucky Sheep Breeders' Association branch of the Farmers' Week meeting, which was held at State University and the experiment station last week. The crowd of farmers listened with close attention to Mr. Poole.

It is the opinion of Mr. Poole that southern sheep growers are accustomed to dispose of their crops too early in the market season. He said that it was his firm conviction that the high price of lambs and sheep will remain unchanged for five years and advised farmers to stock their farms with good breeds of sheep.

A few years ago there were six distilleries running and making whisky in Pendleton county. Now there is not one in operation. We are informed there is only one in the whole district that is making whisky this season. This is an indication that the booze business has seen its best days.—Falmouth Outlook.

WHEN RUN-DOWN, WEAK AND NERVOUS

What Should a Man Do? Suggestion of Ohio Druggist to One Such Man Saved His Life, So He Says.

Nelsonville, Ohio.—"I was all run-down, weak and nervous and had no appetite at all. In fact I was very much discouraged until our druggist told me about Vinol and asked me to try it. I did so and it has certainly been a life saver to me. I can gladly recommend Vinol to anyone who needs a blood and nerve tonic."—S. S. STERNROD, Nelsonville, Ohio.

When a man is run-down, weak and nervous, he needs a good appetite, good digestion, better blood, more strength, more vitality, and we do not know of any medicine that will supply it so quickly as Vinol.

It is the active medicinal principles of cod liver oil aided by the blood making strengthening properties of tonic iron, contained in Vinol, which makes it so efficient in building up health and strength for weak, nervous, run-down men and women.

Weak every weak, nervous, run-down person in this locality to try Vinol on our guarantee, and if it fails to help you, we will return your money. John O. Peacor, Druggist, Maysville, Ky., and at leading drug stores everywhere.

THE HUMAN CORKSCREW.

Did you ever open with a corkscrew—well, we'll say, a bottle of catsup? Did you ever notice how that corkscrew worms and twists its way into the cork until, at last, getting a firm hold, it yanks the cork out? Well, did you ever run up against a human corkscrew? We do not mean one of those individuals who become so warped and twisted through cheating his neighbor that he could hide behind a corkscrew, but we mean that individual who comes to you in an hour of trouble and who, pretending sympathy and a desire to help you, worms his way into your confidence to draw forth the secrets that are reposing there. There are a good many of those human corkscrews in the world today. They are possessed of a morbid soul which must be fed upon harrowing details, and thus they go about the world looking for those who have met with misfortune. When they find them, they immediately assume an angelic mien and, with a voice that is shaking with counterfeit emotion, parade their pretense of sympathy and helpfulness, and by wiles and arts which they have learned by long practice, screw themselves into the heart of their victim and, securing a firm hold, pull it out, then scurry forth to boast of their achievement and to herald before the world the sanctities of a sorrowful heart. Beware of the human corkscrew. He is as dangerous to modern society as the rattlesnake and should be avoided as zealously.—Illinois Freeman.

RECALL FALL OF FORT FISHER.

Wilmington, N. C., January 15.—The older residents of Wilmington recalled today as the fiftieth anniversary of the fall of Fort Fisher, which guarded the entrance to Wilmington harbor during the Civil war. At the beginning of the year 1865 Fort Fisher was the principal stronghold still in Confederate hands, and it had been for a long time a cause of anxiety and worry to the northern authorities. For several months the Federals had maintained an almost continuous siege of the fort, but the powerful works defied every effort to capture it. In the late autumn the fleet of Admiral Porter and a land force under General B. F. Butler had made an unsuccessful effort to reduce the stronghold. On Christmas Eve the Federals began another vigorous bombardment of the fort. A week or so later a second military expedition, under General Terry, was sent down from Hampton Roads to aid the fleet in taking the fort. On January 14, the heavy bombardment began again, and again the troops were landed. By night every gun on the face of the fort was disabled. The next morning it was decided to storm the works. The sailors and marines were landed in front of the fort and the land forces made an attack from the rear. After hours of the hardest kind of fighting and heavy losses on both sides the fort was finally captured. The fall of Fort Fisher practically ended the naval operations of the war.

SOCIALISTS TO URGE PEACE.

Copenhagen, January 15.—Socialists from many countries are arriving to take part in the international conference about to assemble here to take up the question of agitating for measures to prevent war and to discuss the causes of the present war and the prospects of ending it. Although the Socialist party in America took the initiative in calling the conference, the leaders of the party in that country have found it impracticable under existing conditions to come to Copenhagen to take part in the deliberations. Spain, Portugal, Sweden, Norway and several other countries have sent delegates. One of the principal subjects of discussion will be the attitude of the Socialists in the countries which are at war in holding that they are justified in fighting for their respective countries.

OHIO SOCIETY TO HONOR HERRICK.

New York, January 15.—The Ohio Society of New York has completed preparations for its annual dinner at the Waldorf-Astoria tomorrow night, when Myron T. Herrick, the late ambassador to France, will be present as the guest of honor. The theme of the evening will be, "Ohio, the State of Opportunities." Among the speakers will be Martin W. Littleton of New York, James H. Hoy of Cleveland and Warren G. Harding, Senator-elect from Ohio.

A LITTLE MORE.

A little more giving and a little less greed;
A little more bearing of other people's load,
A little more Goodspeeds on the dusty road;
A little more rose and a little less thorn,
To sweeten the aid for the sick and forlorn;
A little more song and a little less glum,
And coins of gold for the uplift of the slum;
A little more Golden Rule in marts of trade,
A little more sunshine and a little less shade;
A little more respect for fathers and mothers,
A little less stepping on the toes of others;
A little less knocking and a little more cheer
For the struggling hero who is left in the rear;
A little more love and a little less hate,
A little more of the helping hand by you and me;
A little less of this graveyard sentimentality,
A little more of flowers in the pathway of life,
A little less on coffins at the end of the strife.

STRIKES DON'T PAY.

That the strike is the most wasteful and destructive of all methods of settling industrial disputes is acknowledged by every one. That it is one of the least effective from the workman's point of view may not be generally understood. Yet, according to the Ohio Industrial Commission the records of the Commission show this to be true. The Commission has just issued a bulletin on the Union Scale of Wages and Hours of Labor, which shows that in 14 Ohio cities strikes brought about only 31 changes benefitting 6,000 employees, while peaceful conferences, arbitrations and agreements brought about 258 changes favorably affecting 44,000 workmen. In a word, 88 per cent of the favorable changes secured by the workmen were brought about without loss of time by peaceful means, while strikes with their hardships, losses and violence brought final help to only 12 per cent.

GOOD DAY FOR THE EASTERN ROADS.

Washington, January 15.—Today will go on record as a red letter day for all of the railroads operating in the territory east of the Mississippi river and north of Virginia. It is the day fixed for the coming into effect of a large part of the 5 per cent increase in class rates which was recently granted to the roads by the Interstate Commerce Commission, after months of vigorous agitation and discussion. The new scale that becomes effective today applies to points intermediate between New York and Chicago, taking 71 per cent and higher of the New York-Chicago class rates. To points taking a lower percentage of the rates the new tariffs will become effective February 1.

MEETING OF ADJUTANT GENERALS.

Washington, January 15.—"The passing of the ping-pong soldier" was, in effect the general theme of discussion at the annual meeting here today of the National Association of Adjutant Generals. The Association comprises the heads of the national guard in practically all of the states. The meeting considered various legislative measures deemed necessary to increase the efficiency of the state militia.

NEGLECTED VIRGINIA FARMS

Valuable Land For Sale For a Song Because the "Old School" Refuses To Work.

H. B. Bryson of Carlisle, who is in Old Virginia on a visit, writes to the Carlisle Mercury as follows: Farmville, Prince Edward County, Va. January 8, 1915.

Promptly on schedule time we arrived in "Old Virginia," the mother of Presidents, and various and sundry other products unwise to mention. We have seen the Virginia farms, the famous "Colonial Estates" of the Old Dominion, and with a few exceptions, they are all that they have been painted, except the houses, which are not painted. Thousands of fertile acres of virgin soil can be had for from $10 to $20 per acre, mostly with good houses, some with magnificent residences.

"Why?" somebody asks. Simply because the owners are too shiftless to take proper care of them, mostly because the native Virginian will not work. I saw hundreds of farms with a few acres along the road, which is cultivated year after year, with hundreds of acres of new land lying back of this cultivated strip in woods which should be cleared up while the front strip rests. But this is not the Virginia plan—too much work to clear up the land while the strip along the road is already cleared. Therefore, they continue to work the acres already cleared and allow the uncleared forest to remain untouched.

I saw a 500-acre farm with a fairly good two-story house, sadly dilapidated, easily susceptible of rejuvenation, 350 acres of fine bottom land, clean as a pin, and as pretty a piece of land as I ever saw anywhere, the whole farm for $20 an acre. This bottom land is in Nicholas or Bourbon county would be worth at least $200 a acre. The owner is a broken down fox and deer hunter, chicken fighter, and a relic of one of Virginia's "First Families," a "sport" of the old style, typical of the "fo'le war" species; his wife as sweet and accomplished an old lady as ever was seen; no carpets on the floor, but a very splendid piano on which the lady of the house was an expert performer.

ELLA FLAGG YOUNG 70 YEARS OLD.

Chicago, January 15.—To have reached the age of three-score-and-ten and to be able to continue as the active head of the public school system in the second largest city in the country is the rather remarkable distinction of Mrs. Ella Flagg Young, superintendent of the Chicago schools, who celebrated her seventieth birthday anniversary today. Mrs. Young was born in Buffalo and began her career as a teacher at the age of 17. She became superintendent of the Chicago schools in 1909 and is the first woman ever to be put at the head of a public school system of a great city. In 1910 she was honored with the presidency of the National Educational Association. Her connection with the public school system of Chicago covers more than half a century.

Had Rip Van Winkle been a sober, industrious citizen Joseph Jefferson never would have been able to interest the public in him.

POSSIBLE ISSUES SET FORTH

Governor McCreary Specifies Revenue and Taxation, Roads, Education, Prohibition and Suffrage.

Frankfort, Ky.—Five big issues will confront the next administration and General Assembly for settlement, and, perhaps, cut a large figure in the approaching state campaign," said Governor McCreary. "They are revenue and taxation, public roads, insurance regulation, revision of the educational laws and probably constitutional amendments relative to state-wide prohibition and woman's suffrage."

Referring to them categorically, the Governor said: "First—Revenue and taxation. This is bound to be a question of great importance."

"Second—Public roads. The fact that the state increased the state tax 5 cents on the $100 for the benefit of public roads at the last session of the General Assembly provides a large sum of money to be spent in their improvement; and the Good Roads bill which it is said Congress will pass, giving to each state an appropriation for the benefit of road improvement, gives the road question great importance."

"Third—Insurance. It will be remembered that the insurance law passed by the last General Assembly was opposed by insurance companies so strongly that many of them withdrew from the state and refused to do business in Kentucky for a time. A compromise was effected whereby a commission was appointed to prepare a bill for submission to the next General Assembly."

"Fourth—Revision of the educational laws. There is a decided demand for such revision."

"Fifth—the outlook indicates that there will be great efforts made to enact laws in regard to state wide prohibition and woman suffrage."

BURNING UP MILLIONS.

The fire loss of 1914 has been exceeded only three times in the history of the country. The losses of 1914 in the aggregate were larger than in any other year except the three notable conflagration years—1904, when the Baltimore fire occurred; 1916, the year of the San Francisco calamity, and 1908, when Chelsea, Mass., was almost wiped off the face of the earth.

Last year's fire loss amounted to $231,591,350, which is about $11,000,000 more than the loss of 1913.

ITEMS FROM ABERDEEN GREYNA GREEN.

French Meet Disaster On the Aisne Under Emperor's Eye.

London, January 14.—Disaster to the French arms came twofold on the Aisne, according to official reports from Paris and Berlin today.

By a terrific counter attack under the eyes of Emperor William and led in person, it is reported, by General Von Kluck, that the Germans assailed the heights of Vredny to the north-east of Soissons and entirely cleared the plateau of the French forces, capturing 14 French officers and 1,130 men, with four cannon, four machine guns and a searchlight.

England Sends Large Addition To Forces On French Front.

Paris, January 14.—Both the French and the Germans have been reinforced on the Noyon-Soissons-Berry-au-Bac line, in front of Laon, and the fighting around Crouy, Craulles and Hill No. 135 is very severe with alternate bayonet charges and artillery bombardments. Five hundred thousand more British troops are reported to be on their way to France from England to strengthen the allies' line at points where further support may be deemed necessary.

GOOD ROADS BOND ISSUE

To Be Voted Upon Saturday, April 10, Decides Committee At Meeting Last Night.

At a meeting of the good roads committee held in the office of County Attorney W. H. Rees last night it was determined to hold an election in this city and county on Saturday, April 10, to decide whether or not they can vote a bond issue big enough to give Mason county good roads. County Attorney Rees was instructed to draw up the petitions, and Messrs. Andrew Clonney and T. J. Curry were given instructions to get them into the hands of precinct workers.

It will be remembered that a vote on a $200,000 bond issue was made at the last November election and the issue lost by only 7 or 8 votes. Let us all get together now and push for the good roads bond issue.

ATTEMPTED ROBBERY AT CAP. DUNN'S GROCERY STORE.

About 11:20 o'clock last night a burglar was discovered in Cap. Dunn's store in East Third street by two young men who were on their way home in the East End. They immediately called the proprietor, Captain James Dunn, and officer Stewart, who were standing on the corner of Third and Bridge streets talking. Their calling to these men gave the alarm to the burglar, who escaped through a back window, leaving a sack full of Amalaga grapes and a hat bought from George H. Frank and with the initials "R. W." under the band. Local officers immediately started working on the case and it is thought that the man wanted is Bob Warner, colored, who was recently released from the penitentiary.
